

Tom Joseph
@TomJChicago

Thread Reader App
6 tweets - 17 Mar 2019

TomJChicago/status/1107364459209723905

1 There are lots of Barr questions, so here's another unsaid sign that he is not undermining the Russia investigation- Barr instantly became privy to the identity of informers and co-operating witnesses. If Barr told Trump, we would have already heard a Trump explosion about it.

2 Take someone who is working in the WH & secretly co-operating. We'll use Pence as a hypothetical example. How would Barr be able to undo a cooperation & plea deal agreement? He can't. How could he go to Trump and say X, Y & Z are informers or Hope Hicks flipped? He'd be nailed.

3 We can safely assume Barr has honored the secrecy aspects of the investigation- including the moves. We know this bc there must be cooperating witnesses past & present that Barr hasn't exposed. He may not agree 100% w/ the decisions Ron Rosenstein made, but he wasn't AG then.

4 Grand Juries, the Judiciary & the House have key authority here. Barr is not the boss- he's just part of the constitutional machinery. There could also be negotiations going on, we don't know about, that he would play a major role in.

5 Ppl noted that Barr sounded like a robotic right winger on the wall & Nat emergency. He may very well be a right wing jerk- that doesn't mean he will betray America & let Putin maintain control of Trump. In fact, he probably was angered when the conspiracy was confirmed to him.

6 We can't just look thru the lens of MSM, politicians & prosecutors to understand what's happening. There is a Nat Security component in play. We are not only missing a Commander in Chief. The bogus Commander in Chief is under Putin's thumb & is the adversary. Nat security rules